

New County Budget Provides One-Mill Increase In Taxes

Board Gives Reasons For Higher Levy

Monroe County commissioners have set up a tentative budget requiring a total tax rate of 10 mills. The general fund expenditures will be supported by a rate of eight mills and the institution district by a rate of three mills. Total rate is a mill higher than 1951.

Virtually winding up their budget studies Thursday afternoon, commissioners set June 30 as the date for adoption of the tax rate resolution and the budget.

The one mill increase was applied by commissioners to the general fund account. A number of factors beyond the control of the existing board of commissioners were involved, county officials said. These they listed as follows:

One was the enactment by the Pennsylvania Legislature, during its session in 1951, increasing salaries of county officials.

Involved are increases to the district attorney, the sheriff and the county commissioners, all mandated by the Legislature.

Also included in the increased expenses is a $26,000 expenditure for voting machines for 13 voting districts of the county—machines which have been purchased and will be used next November. They were purchased under mandate of the voters at last November's election.

Because tax monies do not come in until August of each year, commissioners are also earmarking funds to cover exercise of an option to pay for 14 more machines by April 1, 1953. They proposed the option to take advantage of a sound price quotation and to meet the possibility of other district voting groups asking for machines after the first 13 were installed.

In the capital expenditure line, the general fund contains a new item of some $5,000 to cover expenses of required repairs to the court house.

Another item of additional expense covers increases to varied non-elective employees of the court house to keep pace with existing economic conditions and to offset the increases granted the elective officials under 1951 legislation, officials said.

In the institution district budget, commissioners held the tax line to three mills, the same rate imposed in 1951, despite required installation of an emergency lighting system for the home.

New Uprisings Likely At Koje

Koje Island, Korea (AP)—A prison camp spokesman declared today that rebellious Red prisoners of war on this bloody island "are licked, and they know it."

The spokesman warned, however, that before the final Allied crackdown there would be more uprisings such as those Thursday and Friday in which six prisoners were killed.

"They know we are going to move in and split them into smaller groups," he said, "and they know there isn't anything they can do about it."

"So they are jittery and are trying to provoke us into a rash move."

Officials on the island said that "illegal messages" which had been circulating among mutinous prisoners were found on the bodies of the North Koreans killed Friday. The contents of the messages were not divulged.

The spokesman for Brig. Gen. Haydon L. Boatner, new camp commander, was referring to the move to split the 80,000 prisoners into smaller, more manageable groups in new compounds.

This move may come next week. It is the general opinion here that the prisoners will fight if their masters behind the Iron Curtain order them to.

Catholic Pilgrims Pray For Peace 'In Our Time'

Barcelona, Spain, (AP)—Thousands of Roman Catholic pilgrims from more than 40 countries prayed last night before Barcelona's unfinished Holy Family Cathedral for "peace in our time" and liberation of the Catholic church in Communist-dominated lands.

The service was a high point in the 35th International Eucharistic Congress. Four cardinals and many archbishops and bishops led the prayers in the esplanade before the towering cathedral.

A telegram from Pope Pius XII expressed the Pontiff's gratification with the "fervent homage" of the congress. The Pope expressed the hope that the "harvest of fruit of this congress may be very rich, giving peace to souls and nations."

Riots Rock Japan; Three Reds Killed

Memorial Day Traffic Clogs Area Highways

Holiday traffic tied itself in knots all around the Stroudsburgs yesterday.

Part of the early congestion was apparently due to the city-bred motorists' belief in the old axiom—"the early bird gets the worm." Yesterday, however, an official count showed that of the 18,000 vehicles which passed across the Delaware River at Portland—either into or out of Pennsylvania—most of the early birds got the bird.

According to bridge officials, the big push began shortly after 4 p.m. Thursday. It began to slacken late yesterday afternoon.

In between traffic nudged along in near bumper-to-bumper stages along Routes 6 and 611 leading through Portland into Monroe County.

Traffic across the Portland-Columbia bridge reached its peak at 9 p.m. Thursday, with 501 vehicles recorded between that time and the hour previous.

Approximately 6,933 cars passed over the covered bridge between 4 p.m. Thursday and 10 last night. A Delaware bridge official, meanwhile, said official records there showed a total of 11,413 vehicles had passed across at that point.

The large majority of the cars were moving westward, the official said. The ratio on east-west-bound traffic was approximately 1 to 4.

In the Stroudsburgs, the worst congestion occurred between the hours of 9 and 10:30 a.m. This was the time allotted for yesterday's Memorial Day parade. Traffic moving through Stroudsburg on Routes 611 and 209 was blocked.

Shortly after the beginning of the block, an uneven line of shining motor vehicles thrust its way slowly backward to Delaware Water Gap. Cars moving through the Gap were forced to wait on the highway until the line again began to move.

The situation was duplicated on a minor scale for motorists on Route 209, attempting to move in to or from either Stroudsburg borough.

With all the traffic, the frayed nerves and the uneven temper, yesterday's exhibition of the tangled network of modern transportation proved to be comparatively mild in terms of accidents.

At 11 last night, only four accidents had been reported in the county.

One of these, however, involved the critical injury of a small boy. Nature, unlike men, turned a considerable glance toward the struggling humans below.

Throughout most of the day the temperatures remained lower than they had been during the past week.

It may have been the weather that turned the trick and made native New Yorkers and commuters out on a holiday away from the sticky heat of the subway just relax and enjoy the fresh air.

And—like the traffic—there was plenty of that.

Delegates Invited To Confer With Eisenhower Next Month

By The Associated Press

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower heads home from Europe today to assume a civilian role in the campaign for the Republican presidential nomination, a campaign enlivened anew by two developments in which he and his backers figured.

Disturbances Set Scene For Wrangling

Munsan, Korea (AP)—New Red prisoner outbreaks gave more ammunition today to Communist tuition delegates who already are threatening war-front blows for alleged Allied "slaughter" of captives.

The United Nations Command and Communist delegation assembly for another Korean armistice session at Panmunjom at 11 a.m. Gen. Nam Il, the North Korean head of the Red delegation, was expected to pounce on the latest series of disturbances in which 19 prisoners were killed and 18 wounded in Allied camps Thursday and Friday.

In Friday's session, Nam Il seized on one such incident, the accidental shooting of a Red prisoner on Koje Island, called it another "atrocity," and declared:

"You should not fail to see the consequences of such action."

Brig. Gen. William Nuckols, the U. N. Command spokesman, said the statement was "typical of the veiled threats which have been made in the past."

Earlier this week, Nam Il twice declared that the North Korean and Chinese Armies in Korea "absolutely shall not sit idle" while the Allies "wantonly murder" Red prisoners. Allied authorities have said all riots in Allied camps have been Communist instigated.

Cons Continue Sitdown

Trenton, N. J., (AP)—Nine mulish convicts, not satisfied with gaining parole concessions, continued a two-day series of sitdown strikes last night and handed the warden of Trenton State Prison a new list of demands.

Okay Support Bill

Washington, (AP)—A bill designed to prevent a drop in government support prices for wheat, corn and cotton was approved unanimously yesterday by a Senate agriculture subcommittee.

Holiday Deaths Mount Slowly

By The Associated Press

Clear skies and warm weather drew throngs of motorists to the nation's highways Memorial day and the traffic death toll for the holiday weekend slowly mounted.

The National Safety Council estimated there would be 310 highway fatalities during the 78-hour weekend period—from 6 p.m. (local time) Thursday to midnight (local time) Sunday. This would be an average of about four highway deaths an hour.

In the first 24 hours of the holiday period, accidents reported along the highways claimed 60 lives—an average of slightly less than 2½ deaths an hour.

There also were 14 drownings and 10 deaths from miscellaneous accidents, making a total of 84.

Ike Sheds SHAPE Helm

Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe, (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower turned over his Allied command to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway yesterday and made ready to get home for the political wars.

"It's up to you now," the five-star general told his four-star successor in a brief change-of-command ceremony on the flower-fringed lawn of Supreme Headquarters, 14 miles west of Paris.

Eisenhower is to take off at 2 p.m. (9 a.m., EST) today for Washington. Upon his arrival there at 4 p.m. Sunday he will get a 17-gun military welcome and the glad hand of political backers seeking to get him nominated as the Republican Party's presidential choice.

HST Acclaims German Pact

Washington, (AP)—President Truman yesterday acclaimed steps toward the military alliance of West Germany with the free nations of Western Europe as a "great contribution" to world peace.

The President expressed this view in congratulating Secretary of State Dean Acheson on his accomplishments in helping to wind up a West German peace treaty and European Defense Treaty. Acheson returned yesterday from a week in Europe and was greeted by the President at National Airport.

The President, it was learned, will ask the Senate early next week to approve the peace contract and an amendment to the North Atlantic Treaty extending the treaty's guarantees to Western Germany. The President and Acheson are reported hopeful that the Senate will act quickly and thus set the pace for European Parliaments in their actions on these pacts and the European Defense Treaty.

The President and his chief diplomat, meanwhile, are confronted with the problem of what counter measures to take if the Russians build up their bitter opposition to the new West German plans to the point of clamping down a new Berlin blockade or vitally reducing East-West communications in Germany.

London, (AP)—A Soviet photograph purportedly showing an actual atomic explosion in Russia appeared yesterday in the London Daily Mail.

The paper said the picture—showing a billowing mountain of black smoke—came from a Soviet magazine smuggled into Germany.

The Mail said the blast in the Soviet picture is supposed to show the cutting of a passage through the Altai Mountains for construction of a new South Siberian Railway. The Russian magazine said the explosion took place in March, 1951.

The U. S. government has reported three atomic explosions in Russia—the first in September, 1949, and two others in October, 1950.

German Reds Urge Strikes Against West

Berlin (AP)—The Red rulers of East Germany, in a new outburst of threats, called last night for "extreme national resistance" and sabotage through labor strikes, against the West German-Allied peace contract. German civil war was mentioned as a possibility.

The Communists' aim is to keep the Bonn Parliament from ratifying the contract signed by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and the Big Three Western Foreign Ministers this week.

The new flurry from the blustery East came on the heels of a sharp protest to the Soviet command by the Western Big Three against mounting Communist pressure on the Iron Curtain border.

The Western Powers demanded specifically that their military police be permitted to resume patrolling the Berlin-Helmstedt Autobahn.

Walter Ulbricht, East German boss, spearheaded the latest drive in the Reds' thus far unsuccessful campaign to halt the progress of the newly signed peace pact.

Gerhart Eisler, East German information chief, said in a speech at Rostock, Russian zone Baltic port, that widespread strikes should sabotage the peace contract.

The Western Allies' protest in Berlin to Gen. Vasily I. Chulikov, Soviet commander, was aimed at the "series of obstructive measures" East Germany already has imposed in resentment against the peace contract.

The Allies informed Chulikov that the "security zone" the East Germans have set up along their frontier with the West had in some cases actually infringed on existing demarcation lines. The Western Powers declared that the restrictive actions were contrary to the interests of the German people and worked against any possible reunification of the country. Both East Germany and Russia have made repeated claims they want a united Germany.

The Communist Free German Youth (FDJ), meeting in Leipzig, sent "Dear Joseph Stalin" a telegram which left no doubt of the order of their allegiance. They said they would "defend to the utmost the great Socialist Soviet Union, our homeland, and peace against the criminal intentions of the American and German imperialists."

125 Arrested In 'Martyr's' Day Demonstrations

Tokyo (AP)—Japan rocked with Red riots yesterday and Tokyo police killed three from a Communist mob which attacked with vicious weapons of searing acid and flaming oil bombs.

The newspaper Yomiuri said that at the height of the disorder a homemade bomb exploded on the grounds of Pershing Heights, U.S. Army residential area, but there was no damage or injuries. This report could not be confirmed immediately.

At least 35 persons were injured in the waves of Red "Martyr's Day" demonstrations that broke across Japan's home islands from Hokkaido in the north to Kyushu in the South. These official figures may grow.

Mother Gives Birth To Second Set Of Twins

Birth of twins created considerable excitement at the Percy Lanterman's Green Lantern tearoom on the Millford Pike, north of East Stroudsburg, last night.

The double arrivals increased to six the size of the family involved. Just a year ago, the mother gave birth to another set of twins.

Yesterday's babies arrived about 6 p.m. Within a few hours, they were strutting proudly about their home.

In this case, the family is a herd of deer owned by the Lantermans.

Many Leaders Purged In Red Romania

Washington (AP)—The biggest shakeup and purge among rulers of Communist Romania since that Balkan nation became a Soviet satellite was described yesterday in diplomatic dispatches from Bucharest.

Ann Pauker, long-time friend of Generalissimo Stalin and one of the top powers in the Communist hierarchy in Romania, has lost her vital Red party positions and is assumed thereby to be on the political skids.

Altogether a total of seven persons, including Mrs. Pauker, have been eliminated from among the 13 regular members of the Romanian Communist Party's all-powerful politburo. A new Politburo composed of nine regular members has been announced in the Bucharest press.

Experts centered their attention on the possibility of financial scandals, of a contest for power between two factions in the party and of the failure of the Red regime to press forward Romania's Russian-style collectivization program on schedule.

Nation-wide reports placed the number of arrests at about 125 from an estimated 12,000 persons who participated in 62 demonstrations in Japan's large cities.

Unlike the May Day riots, when Communist anti-American feeling ran high, there were no injuries reported to U. S. Army personnel or American civilians except among newsmen who covered the riots. Associated Press, Correspondent William C. Barnard suffered an ugly neck wound from a sulphuric acid bomb hurled by a Red agitator while he was covering street fighting in a western section of Tokyo.

A Communist-hurled rock knocked the wind out of a reporter for Stars and Stripes, U. S. Armed Forces publication. Navy Journalist 2-C James L. Kerwin of Petoskey, Mich., was hit in the groin by the rock but recovered later. A Japanese boy alongside Kerwin was also felled.

At Kobe, in southwestern Japan Life Correspondent John Dille was attacked by a mob and bruised. His companion, Life Photographer Margaret Bourke-White, was not molested.

Police in Tokyo were attacked by Communist agitators who hoisted throwing acid and flaming oil bombs flailed away with bicycle chains and sticks.

An estimated 25,000 police and national rural police, mobilized for the occasion, smashed the demonstrations.

Downtown Tokyo, hit by Red riots on May Day, remained quiet. Strengthened U. S. Military Police units patrolled outside the headquarters of Gen. Mark Clark, the Allied Commander, but there were no incidents.

Cause of the demonstration was the Communist observance of the third anniversary of the slaying of a worker in a riot in 1949.

Snyders Sell Two Tracts

Deeds for transfer of three properties were filed Thursday at the office of Floyd Butz, register and recorder at the courthouse.

In one of them, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn J. Snyder, of Chestnut Hill Township, disposed of two tracts on the McMichael-Brodie driveway road to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Grinnell, same place. One tract contained one and a half acres and the other 2.633 acres.

The Vacation Realty Co. of Mountbathome, according to a deed filed, sold four lots in the Oaklyn Park lot plan in Barrett Township to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gino, of Barrett.

H. C. Edwards, executor of the estate of Alice P. Herriek, deceased, and Mr. and Mrs. Hal H. Harris, Stroudsburg, in the deed filed by them provided for the transfer of property in Tobyhanna Township on the Pocono Lake to Blakeslee road, to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Smith, of the same area.

111-Year-Old Vet Leads Marchers

Rochester, N. Y., (AP)—The nation's oldest Civil War veteran led the Memorial Day parade here again yesterday and said "this might be the last time I'm out and I want to make the most of it."

James A. Hard, who will be 111 July 15, stepped out of the car after the parade and was helped into a restaurant. He polished off half a chicken and full helpings of mashed potatoes and peas. Then he had a cup of coffee—and his inevitable cigar.

Hard couldn't see much except what was close to him and he wasn't able to hear much of the band music, either. His physical faculties aren't what they used to be, although he seems to take as much interest in life as ever.

Four High Schools To Conduct Baccalaureate Services Sunday

Ministers Announce Programs

Four Monroe County high schools will hold baccalaureate services tomorrow night.

Ministers from representative denominations are scheduled to deliver principal sermons and cooperate in the general programs at Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Poik and Pocono Township schools.

Poik High School's baccalaureate service begins at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium, with Rev. James Laubach, pastor of the Pleasant Valley Lutheran Church, delivering the main sermon.

Also participating in the Poik exercises will be Rev. Adan A. Bohner, pastor of the Brodheads-ville-Hamilton Charge of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, who will give the invocation and benediction; Rev. Alton P. Albright of the Pleasant Valley Parish, Evangelical and Reformed, who will read selections from the Scripture and deliver a prayer.

For East Stroudsburg High School graduates, baccalaureate services will be held Sunday night at 8 p.m. in the Junior High School auditorium.

Rev. William F. Wunder, pastor of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church will deliver the sermon, using the unifying theme of "Conquest For God".

Rev. Wunder's sermon will illustrate the manner in which daily accomplishments in the student's adult life may also be used to further the work of God.

Three other East Stroudsburg clergymen will cooperate in the baccalaureate ceremonies.

Rev. Frank W. Wingerter, pastor of East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church, will give the special prayer for the occasion; Rev. Norman R. Savage, First Baptist Church, will deliver an invocation and benediction and Rev. Harold C. Eaton, pastor of East Stroudsburg Methodist Church will read from the Scriptures.

A fifth East Stroudsburg clergyman, Rev. Benjamin Hostetter, pastor of the Christian Missionary Alliance Church, will be unable to attend the baccalaureate services.

Rev. Hostetter's son is scheduled to be graduated from Houghton College on the same day.

Rev. Leroy Bernard, pastor of the Tannersville Methodist church, will deliver the sermon at baccalaureate exercises in the Pocono Township High School auditorium, beginning at 8 p.m.

Assisting Rev. Bernard will be Rev. John Ferguson of the Tannersville Catholic Mission. Father Ferguson will give the invocation and benediction which open and close the services.

Stroudsburg borough seniors will be honored at baccalaureate services in the high school auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Thomas Shoemith, pastor of Christ Episcopal Church in Stroudsburg, will speak on living "With A Sense of What Is Vital In Religion".

Rev. Frank H. Blatt, Zion Reformed Church; Rev. Ernest T. Campbell, Stroudsburg Presbyterian and Rev. Roger C. Stinson, newly-appointed pastor of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church, will assist Rev. Shoemith during the services.

In nearly all cases the selection of the community minister who will deliver the principal baccalaureate sermon is done on an alternating basis so that each pastor is given the opportunity to participate in the major portion of the program.

Episcopalians To Donate To Bishop's Fund

In the Episcopal Churches throughout the Diocese of Bethlehem, the members will contribute to a special "Bishop's Fund" on Whitsunday, June 1. This fund which was inaugurated last year made it possible for Rt. Rev. Frank W. Sterrett, D.D., bishop of Bethlehem, to add a clergyman to his missionary staff at rapidly growing St. George's Church, Hellertown.

There are several churches in the Diocese of Bethlehem where small missions now exist but which have no resident clergyman. In these growing communities, such as Emmaus, Mount Pocono, Tobyhanna, Friedensville, Morgantown, and Allentown, additional clergy are needed. The Bishop's Fund will provide means for additional personnel.

Fellowships To Sponsor Annual Event

For the fourth consecutive year, the young folks of the intermediate and senior youth fellowships of the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church are making plans for a "fun festival." This event is planned as one of the affairs which help them to realize funds which pay for more than half the expense of sending their delegates to "Pocono Institute" held at the Pocono Plateau Christian Association grounds, on Bush Mountain above Cresco. The "fun festival" this year has been set for June 20 and will be in the Sunday school auditorium at 8 p.m. The entertainment will be in the form of "minstrel skits" and songs. Tickets are sold by the youth fellowship members for this, and later in the basement of the church there are booths with a variety of articles and food for sale—and fun for the whole family.

General committee for the affair has as co-chairmen, David Powell and Richard Moore, with Patricia Stiff, Loretta Bausher, Robert Stenlake, Gary Sterner, and Lorraine Sincok serving with them.

John Eaton is chairman of the entertainment committee, and those asked to serve on the entertainment planning committee are Betty Stiff, Dottie Lou Wiedmeyer, Jane Ann Marshall, Richard Van Why, Lois La Barre, Barry Lambert, John Shaffer and Barbara Shaffer.

Betty Stiff is chairman of the ticket committee, with Leon Albert, Howard Powell and Joan Westgate as other committee members. Nancy Strauser is chairman of the parcel post booth, with Betty Jane Hunt, Shirley Applegate, Janeth Gunn is chairman of the baked goods and candy booth, and those serving on the committee with her are Ruth Shelby, Marlene Mischeffelder, Patricia Hunt, Patsy Ann Hartman. The chairman of the handwork and novelties booth is Eleanor Decker, with June Green-laud, Janet Snyder, Margaret Dymond, Yvonne Wallie, and Edna Merring serving with her; Marilyn Stine, ice cream booth chairman, with Kathryn Hamblin, Mary Anne Neyhart, Mary Jane Stackhouse and Delores Keller assisting. Hot dog stand will have Leon Albert as chairman, assisted by Doris Shea, Loretta Bausher, Joan Coffman, Daniel Wilson Graydon, Stright and Dottie Lou Wiedmeyer, are on the fish pond committee, and Joan Westgate, and Gary Sterner on the peanut stand committee.

The next general planning committee meeting has been scheduled for Monday at 7 p.m. in the Sunday school auditorium; and John Eaton has scheduled the first organization meeting and practice for the minstrel for Tuesday at 7 p.m. All young people of the junior and senior high school age group of the Church and Sunday school are invited to assist with the entertainment, as well as a number of the post high school young people.

Those who are ready

Alert, keen, with eager steps and heads held high in confidence to meet the future, our graduates stream out from the portals of high schools, colleges, and universities. A new life of opportunity commences today for all who have received their diplomas. But are they ready for life? Schools, although of great value to any youngster, cannot guarantee success. A diploma simply states a required course of study for a specific degree has been satisfactorily completed.

In addition to formal schooling our young people must have a more complete preparation with which to face the challenges and disappointments of life. They need the Church and home working together to strengthen their moral and spiritual fibre. Yes, with this combination—school, Church, and home, they will receive that inner strength and trust in God to face life's problems unafraid.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Dissent of the Victim

By an announced vote of seven to one, the Supreme Court has said there is no infringement of constitutional rights when a bus or trolley line inflicts music and commercials on a captive audience—its riders.

Five of the justices agreed with the majority opinion, written by Justice Burton, that bus and street car radios are constitutionally inoffensive, so long as they do not "interfere with public convenience, comfort and safety."

But Justice Burton expressly refrained from expressing an opinion on the "desirability" of radio programs in public vehicles.

Justice Black concurred with the Burton opinion, but drew a line on it. He said the music wasn't unconstitutional, but any broadcasting of news, speeches, views or propaganda would be.

Justice Douglas dissented:

"Today the purpose is benign; there is no invidious cast to the programs. But the vice is inherent in the system. Once privacy is invaded, privacy is gone. Once a man is forced to submit to one type of radio program, he can be forced to submit to another."

Justice Frankfurter did not participate in the decision, but he gave his reason for standing aside:

"My feelings are so strongly engaged as a victim of the practice in controversy that I had better not participate in judicial judgment upon it."

Other bus-riding victims doubtless will subscribe to the same devastating dissent.

Besides the elephant, the bear, hippopotamus and walrus provide ivory.

The cleanest animal is said to be the raccoon.

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture—Exodus 20:14; Matthew 5:8, 13:16, 27:32; Mark 10:2-12; Luke 2:40

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

Impurity in life is rebuked in the Bible, from the Book of Genesis to the Book of Revelation. In our lesson today, Jesus speaks to us in His own language of the way to live the pure life.

In this matter which is of the utmost importance in the lives of men and women today, just as it was in His day, we can be safe if we follow the rules He laid down many centuries ago.

If men and women, and even little children, are tempted or puzzled as to what is right, let them ask themselves, "What does Jesus say?" and they will be guided aright.

In the Sermon on the Mount He told the multitudes who followed Him about to learn of Him, "Blessed are the pure in heart; for they shall see God."

Later in that magnificent Sermon Jesus said that even to think impure thoughts was another way of being unchaste. It was better, the Master declared, that a man or woman should pluck out an eye, or cut off the right hand if it led to unchaste thoughts, and cast it from thee; for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

"Ye are the salt of the earth," Christ said, "but if the salt hath lost its savor, wherewith shall it be salted? It is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men."

Salt, as we all know, is one of the most important of chemicals. Without it neither man or beast can be healthy—unless, of course, a person is suffering from an abnormal physical condition in which it cannot be tolerated.

Cakes of salt have been used as money. In the Roman army an allowance of salt was made to officers and men. It flavors our foods and makes them more palatable; it preserves foods, and performs many other functions in our daily living. But if the saltiness (or savor) is gone from it, salt is useless, only fit to be cast out, as Christ said.

Jesus also told His followers that they were the light of the world, like a city that was set on a hill which could not be hid, and He added that men did not light a candle and then hide it, but set it in a candlestick to give light unto all in the house.

"Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven."

That does not mean that we should go about boasting of our good works, but that we should, in our daily lives, live as He would have us, so that our associates may realize our usefulness and righteousness and give God the glory.

What were Jesus' views on divorce—that problem that plagues us so in modern society? It has always been a problem as far back as man's history is recorded.

The Pharisees were curious as to how He would answer their questions concerning it. They went to Him and asked, "Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife?" They were tempting him, hoping He would so answer, that they could use His words against Him.

"What did Moses command you?" Jesus asked.

"And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of divorce, and to put her away."

"For the hardness of your heart he wrote you this precept," said Jesus.

"But from the beginning of the Creation God made them male and female."

"For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife; and they twain shall be one flesh; so then they are no more twain, but one flesh."

"What therefore God has joined together, let no man put asunder."

Do married couples who contemplate divorce, think of the vows they made when they were wed? Possibly if they did, and if they made their vows (both of them) in good faith, meaning solemnly to keep them all their days—there might not today be so many broken homes and children deprived of one parent to love and cherish them.

What was Jesus' home life like? We do not know too much about it, but we can be certain that He was a beloved member of a united and happy family.

St. Luke tells us, "And the Child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon Him."

Memory Verse — "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God."—Matthew 5:8.

Report from Nevada

Things, it is generally acknowledged, are tough all over. You frequently hear comment along these lines where people have jobs to do. They express displeasure over the work.

But not one man we have in mind. That's why our hat's off to him.

Remember the Fourth of July when you were a youngster? Remember that awful feeling when a dud firecracker sizzled and died and you had to creep cautiously up and see what was wrong?

Now for our man—the one who had to find out what was wrong with the so-called "nuclear device" that didn't go off on schedule the other day in Nevada.

That's tough work, but we hear he gets a bang out of it.

My New York

—By Mel Heimer

New York — One of the phenomena in this remarkable city is the existence of the you'll-take-what-we-got-and-like-it restaurant.

I wouldn't even begin to estimate the number of eating places in New York; it runs, of course, into the thousands upon thousands and they range all the way from El Morocco, where you can get gumbo with your sambas, to the Bowery joints where you can pick up coffee, soup and bread for 15 cents.

When you have that many beaneries studding a town, some of them have to be a little off-beat. The result is, we have a solid handful of places, where there are no menus.

This is not the results of poverty, as would seem obvious, but the result of an over dose of chic. It has become the thing to do, in New York, when you are trying to impress a doll or your visiting cousin from Fort Wayne, to take her to an ultra-smart little spot where the waiter saunters over, looks at you menacingly and asks "How will you have your steak?"

It does no good to protest feebly that you want breast of chicken or ham cutlets; you are going to get steak, by the eternal, and you are going to pay $7 a slice for it. Later the management softens to the extent of allowing you to select either French or Russian dressing for your salad, but you finish up with demi-tasse and blue cheese and crackers for dessert no matter what you may have had in mind.

Last Night I caught up with the creme de creme of these places; it was a little downstairs cafe in East 58th street that was absolutely so precious it was painful.

The decor, to begin with was pure southern decadent. I expected to see Blanche duBois emerge triumphantly from the rest room (coily labeled "water closet," as if the world had stood still these hundred years), or to behold Truman Capote peering around a piece of statuary like the elf he is.

The place was loaded with statuary. It was a gloomy, tiny little room containing a half-dozen marble-top tables and in the center stood a marble maiden resembling the White Rock girl, holding a seashell to her ear and labeled enigmatically at the base "McBride," which led me to believe she was a onetime clerk at McBride's theater ticket agency who turned to stone in the act of trying to get two sixth-row center for Guys and Dolls.

There were three waitresses—one very light, one very dark, one very red, naturally—and they padded around in long black cassocks looking like fugitives from an Addams cartoon. Everybody here knows how I distrust a home where pepper mills are used, don't they? Well, the very light waitress brought a pepper mill to my table laying it down reverently. Matter of fact, everything was done so reverently, especially the presentation before me of the food, that I felt as if I were taking part in the black mass.

I must admit I had a choice in appetizers. They offered me avocado, mussels or snails. I skipped that with a slight shudder, so without asking the girl brought me a cup of onion soup, which I detest.

She disappeared in smoke before I could tell her no thanks, so I sat and munched French bread—it's terribly picturesque, if not overfilling, and it costs less—until she finally set before me a small half of a small chicken. At this I nibbled.

A big kind of sideboard at one end of the room held all kinds of ethereal dainties—mounds of

These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

THE LOST WAR

On June 25, it will be two years that this country has been at war in Korea. The United States was in World War I 19 months; in World War II, 44 months; in the Korean War, we are nearing 24 months.

This has been a do-nothing war because this country has no target. Even if the whole peninsula of Korea had been conquered, it would not have justified the 180,000 casualties, including 20,000 dead, which have thus far been the toll.

Nothing conclusive, for the United States, could possibly come out of this war unless Manchuria were also conquered and Peking bombed. As that has never been the objective of our strategists, the war lacked point and purpose. Therefore, it was called a police action and as such it has failed. Its failure was foretold by General Douglas MacArthur, General Albert Wedemeyer and by every Far Eastern authority who was not involved in some concept favorable to Soviet China.

The failure has been costly to the United States not only in casualties but in the loss of face throughout Asia. An army which in 1918 had no standing has not only held in check but has outmaneuvered us diplomatically so that it has placed us, in the position of negotiating a peace for 11 months first at Kaesong and then at Panmunjon. In these talks, we have come off second best in the sense that we have no way of penetrating the Chinese resistance to our proposals. Whatever we propose, they reject.

This is an old Chinese trick, used for centuries—the trick of out-talking and out-sitting an opponent until his patience is worn down. The Japanese suffered from it for decades.

I once was associated with a Chinese negotiator who was dealing with the Japanese on tariff questions. He talked endlessly. He wine and dined the Japanese. He held them to all-night sessions. Once the desperate Japanese said to me:

"Tell your friend someday that I cannot talk or eat as much as he can. The only defense against such tactics is to beat him with a club."

In time, the Japanese did just that and that was the realistic beginning of World War II.

The greatest error of judgment that General George Marshall made was when he forced Chiang Kai-shek to enter into true talks with the Chinese Communists over Manchuria. It gave the Chinese Communists time to get into a strategic position to obtain arms and munitions which the Russians had captured from the Japanese, and to build their forces. When they were ready, they ended the truce talks and hit at Chiang, who, deprived of aid from us, was forced to flee to Formosa.

Precisely such tactics are being used at Panmunjon and they can go on endlessly, never reaching a conclusion, unless Soviet Russia wants a fighting war or this country takes the initiative against China. It is my opinion that Soviet Russia does not desire a fighting war and that we shall not take the initiative.

For the Chinese Communists and the North Koreans and the Russians, these truce talks are an excellent expedient. It costs them little or nothing. The Russians have sent none of their own troops; the Chinese Communists cut their losses and the North Koreans are gaining time.

The United States, on the other hand, has about 20 per cent of its fighting power tied down 7,000 miles from home with the necessity of maintaining that long line of supplies of men, material and food. This war is costing somewhere near $10,000,000,000 a year (it is difficult to get exact figures). The fixed policy of our government is to build the defenses of Europe through NATO; therefore, the Korean War is an advantage to the Russians, who have forced upon us a divergent task which not only interferes with the European program but which stimulates differences and dissent within the United States.

One objective of the Russians was to create and develop differences between the United States and Great Britain by offering the British trade advantages. The Russian hope was that this might lead to a quarrel between these countries of such magnitude that in time it would produce a split on all questions. The announced withdrawal of the British from China trade is a rare Russian failure.

There even were a couple of apothecary jars. I looked through the rear door and there was a dark garden full of rusty iron furniture, drooping trees and a couple more statues, one of a small boy named Samuel.

I got through "the meal"—it cost four bucks and my stomach kept sending up inquiries as to where was the rest of the food. Out through the dark hallway, I walked, still looking for Truman Capote, and I made a beeline for a place on Sixth avenue called Chinatown Charlie's. You can say what you want about those chop suey places, but whatever it is they serve, there's lots of it. And it doesn't cost four bucks.

Husbands beware! The next time you see your wife walking around the house with a peculiar expression on her face, it may not be indigestion.

Several letters protested energetically. All came from women.

Here is one from Hollywood—where you should be able to find a synthetic Sir Galahad at almost every street corner.

"Certainly you must realize," the letter says, "that every woman has some time or other happily played with the idea of being a queen, or at least a princess, and she pictures her man as a Sir Galahad in shining armor."

"If the few royal personages still recognized in this prosaic world are not treated as royalty, that knocks all the dreams into so many cocked hats."

"Though I realize that the days of royalty are almost gone forever, and granted that that's as well, still must we deprive ourselves of occasional indulgence in the pageantry, beauty and romance, which were the nicest thing about being kings and queens?"

"Now, honestly, Mr. Brandeis, haven't you ever thought it might be nice to be a fairy-tale king, reigning with your beautiful queen?"

"Naturally, you'd be a wise, good, handsome, beloved king, with your harem used mainly for dancing purposes, since you were lucky enough to weed your true love."

"Now, Sir, your highness, haven't you ever?"

Well, frankly, I haven't ever. In the first place I doubt that my "true love" would permit me to HAVE a harem, even for dancing purposes, and in the second place I have never pictured myself as a handsome, wise and good king.

My mirror has advised me as to the "handsomeness" and my readers have been taking care of any ideas of my ever considering myself "wise and good."

A terrible doubt has just entered my mind. All these many years my wife has been kind to me. She has cooked for me, cleaned house for me, nursed me when I was sick, attended to all my wants and most of my foibles.

Did she do that for ME—Erich Brandeis, the flesh-and-blood, dime-a-dozen husband—or for some IMAGINARY Sir Galahad who existed only in her fancy?

I must go out into the kitchen and see whether she has that DREAMY look on her face,

Hollywood

—by Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—Byron Palmer, a handsome young Hollywoodian, had to go to New York to be discovered by the movies. After "Where's Charley?" he's the male romantic attraction in "Tonight We Sing."

Palmer, whose looks suggest Cary Grant, was born into the newspaper business. His father, Judge Harlan Palmer, a one-time justice of the peace here, publishes the Hollywood Citizen-News. A brother, Harlan Jr., is managing editor; another brother, Ralph, is Valley editor.

"Toughest paper in the country for me to get my name in," Byron grinned. "Dad once deleted it from a New York column, saying, 'We can't have any partiality.' But he's getting a little better; slips it in now and then."

Both he and his father wanted his progress in show business to be on his own, Byron said. No favors because he was Judge Palmer's son.

Byron tried newspapering himself for a while, first as office boy and later as obituary editor. "It didn't appeal," he said. "Somehow it wasn't as glamorous as it is in the movies."

He became a radio announcer and then a singer. He's a baritone. But in his movie role he's supposed to be a tenor. So he's doing his "singing" to a sound track recorded by Jan Peerce.

His romantic partner in the picture, by the way, is Roberta Peters, Metropolitan Opera singer and bride of the Met's Robert Merrill.

Calling All Banks

Banks are not doing a good advertising job and should get more glamour into their ads, a convention speaker declares, denouncing present routines as old in this. Why can't a bank account be advertised so it will seem as important as a shave, a smoke or a beer? Neon signs, cheese cake fronts, gala window displays, etc., are obviously out, although a bank window with a beautiful girl counting money, a Conover model writing checks or a very special dish showing her taste in safety deposit boxes would, in our opinion, mean more business.

Bank books in a choice of shapes and colors, a more distinctive uniform for bank guards, with scarlet coats, bearskin shakos and a dramatic changing of the guard at three-hour intervals might not be bad. Music, too, would have its appeal. "Weaver of Dreams" and "Shrimp Boats" could bring in the youthful depositors. We would be a little wary of "Sin" because of the possible affect on cashiers.

Fancy what it would mean if a bank succeeded in getting its appeal across as forcefully as electric icebox makers! It is certainly possible to glorify a vault. Everybody wants to know the best way to keep money fresh, crisp and cool. And with the least

Thomas recalled Paulette Goddard's comment about unhandsome men. He quotes her; "I like a man's face to have a few character misfits. When we walk down the street I want the people to look at me." . . .

Search Under Way For Two Juveniles Who Fled County Jail

Boys Pick Padlock On Room Door

County authorities and State police have been on the alert since 7 a.m. Thursday in their efforts to locate two juveniles who made their escape from the juvenile department of the Monroe County jail some time after 12:30 a.m. that day.

Jacob Altomose, sheriff, identified the two as James Smith, who had been living with a family in Saylorsburg previous to his incarceration, and Jose Velez, a Puerto Rican, whose home was at 179 100th St., New York City. They are both 17 years of age.

Sheriff Altomose said that the boys had gained their freedom by picking a padlock outside the door of their room. The boy who picked the lock reached through the small opening in the door of the room to get at the lock located about a foot lower on the outside. The sheriff believes the boys used either a nail or coathanger to work on the lock, which was found lying on one of the beds in the room.

The sheriff was in charge of the jail Wednesday night, William Knowles, a deputy, having been off duty. Altomose says he went to bed at 12:30 Thursday morning and when he went to the boys' room at 7 a.m. to take their breakfast to them he discovered the door of the room open and the occupants gone. They had come downstairs and left the building through the kitchen door.

Altomose said that they splintered the flooring of the room probably in an attempt to break out by that means. They also removed a window jamb and took out the heavy upper and lower iron sash-weights. These were discovered under a mattress. Around the end of one of them had been wound a towel.

Marks on the bars on the window of the room indicate, the sheriff feels, that they had tried to pry them apart with a weight without success. The door leading to the room is of heavy wood covered with sheet metal. They removed aluminum strips on the opening in the door.

After having discovered the disappearance of the two lads, Sheriff Altomose called the Stroudsburg State police, Pfc. Alex Kearns responding. A teletype broadcast was sent out from the local barracks, but up to a late hour last night no trace of the missing boys had been reported.

Smith was brought to the county jail April 29 after having run away from the Saylorsburg home and was to have been taken before juvenile court next Monday. He had lived in Saylorsburg since June of last year, when they took him from the Monroe County Home. They say he worked on the premises and attended school until he ran away. His parents, residents of the county, are reported as being separated. Smith is said by authorities to have a reputation of running away from home. He is described as being rather blonde with light brown hair, 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighing 140 pounds.

Velez was arrested May 12 by Constable Kenneth Miller, of Mount Pocono, charged with stealing the automobile of John B. Milouskas, an employee at Onawa Lodge, Mount Pocono, and taken to the county jail where he had since been held. He is described as being 5 feet 3 inches tall, weighing 130 pounds. He has a dark complexion, brown hair, brown eyes, had attended 11th grade school and was a radio technician.

Boy Falls From Car, Is Struck

Brodheadsville—Darel Eckley, aged 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Eckley Jr., of Kresgeville, was critically injured Thursday at 8:50 p.m. when he fell from his father's car and was struck by the 1950 sedan, owned and operated by Travis J. Seese, of East Stroudsburg. State police of the local barracks reported last night.

Little Darel suffered a fractured left hip and fracture of the skull and was reported in "critical" condition at the Monroe County General Hospital late last night.

State police said that Mr. Eckley was operating his 1947 sedan north through the center of the village when a son, Dale, a little older than Darel, called to his father and told him that Darel had fallen out of the car, the left rear door having jarred open. Mr. Eckley brought his car to a halt and looking back saw the little boy lying on the highway facing him, police said.

Mr. Seese, who was traveling in the opposite direction, saw the rear door swing open and an object fall out just as he approached the Eckley car. He applied the brakes immediately but could not avoid striking the little boy with his front wheel.

The East Stroudsburg driver reached under the left front of his car and pulled Darel out, then assisted the father in taking the boy to the office of Dr. John Martucci. After an examination, the injured child was rushed to the General Hospital by ambulance.

Rain was falling at the time of the accident, it was dark and slippery road conditions existed at the time of the accident, according to the police report.

A four-year-old girl was slightly injured in a two car accident on Route 90, at the intersection of Pleasant Ave. and N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg, at 9:15 p.m. Thursday, Pfc. Emil Weber, of the local State police barracks, reported.

Beatrice LaBar, riding in the 1942 light sedan driven by her father, John LaBar Jr., 33, of N. Fifth St., received a lacerated lip and bruises of left leg and was treated by the family physician. Damage to the LaBar car was fixed at $200 by the police.

All Facilities Of Luxurious Camp Tamiment Are Available For Outing Of Service Clubs

Gates to Pike County's Camp Tamiment, 2200-acre haven for relaxationists will be thrown open Tuesday, June 10 to welcome personnel of Monroe and Pike Counties' 17 service organizations.

Benjamin Josephson, one of the original members of the staff who came to this section in the Fall of 1920 to develop the playland, said this week "I am personally looking forward to welcoming my good neighbors and friends who have been helpful, generous and friendly toward our organization."

Service clubs of the region have been arranging for the outing several weeks with their activities directed by Gilbert Smrz, chairman of the committee in charge.

Accommodating close to 1,000 guests, Camp Tamiment is fully equipped to handle the influx of men and women who will converge on the center at 1 p.m. and stay until 1 a.m.

Josephson said all facilities manned by 400 staff members will be made available to the guests. Eugene Lyons, senior editor of Readers Digest has been engaged as the main speaker for the banquet program. Prominent in literary circles, Lyons is the author of such famous books as "Assignment in Utopia," and "The Red Decade." Frank S. LaBar will serve as toastmaster.

Included in the facilities open to the service club members are the camp's two large lakes, one undeveloped. The other, spanning 100 acres and guarded by 14 persons, is the mecca for bathers, as well as boating enthusiasts who may use some 120 boats and canoes docked there.

Scranton Man Hurt Seriously As Car Upsets

The 1940 light sedan driven by E. Michael Murray, 47, of N. Washington St., Scranton, overturned and was demolished and the operator was seriously injured in a crash on Legislative Route 45012 in the Shawnee area Thursday at 4:45 p.m.

Murray was cited to appear before Justice of the Peace Arthur Yetter, Smithfield Township, for motor violation for driving without an operator's license, Pfc. Emil Weber, of Stroudsburg State police sub-station, said last night.

Police said Murray was driving toward Shawnee when he noticed a truck coming in his direction. Murray said he pulled to the right of the highway, hit a soft shoulder, careened off the road and upset. The wrecked car was towed away by a local wrecker.

Murray was taken to the Monroe County General Hospital in the ambulance. Examination revealed possible spinal injury, face lacerations and multiple bruises.

Weary Slated For Election

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will hold their annual 20th District election Sunday at Dyle Bray Post, Myers Crossing, Bangor.

Paul V. Weary of the Thomas P. Lambert Post 2540, Stroudsburg, is unopposed for the position of commander during the coming year.

While there is no official opposition to Weary's candidacy, local VFW members readily admit that such an opposition may develop at Sunday's meeting.

The office of commander is the only position in which the Stroudsburg post is campaigning.

Fire Causes Damage To Bungalow

Fire believed to have been caused by short circuit in a refrigerator motor caused fire in a double frame bungalow of the Acroage of American between Wigwam Park and Manitou cabins about 1:30 p.m. Thursday. Considerable damage resulted.

Stroud Township Fire Co. members who responded to the alarm said that the fire burned through the floor of one of the bungalows and then communicated with the partition between the kitchens before being extinguished. There was considerable damage both from the fire and smoke.

The firemen used streams from their booster tank and also from a portable pump placed in the lake adjacent to the building. The structure was unoccupied and a caretaker told firemen the current had been turned on about midweek.

What every husband on the lam should know

Once, when a guy got fed up with his wife, all he had to do was scam. Across a state border, it was almost impossible for her to get at him. Not so to-day. Thirty-nine states have passed fugitive-husband laws. But . . . why run across to one of the other states? Why let the little woman nick the pay checks? Why leave the old home town? Here is how to work the whole thing . . . bring the little woman down to 4th and Main Streets at Miller's furniture store. Let her select some of their nice furniture and she will be as happy as a lark . . . so good to you . . . that you won't have to run out of her life. Remember it's Miller's furniture store that is helping you win the battle for that happy home. All the smart men are allowing their little woman to buy their furniture at A. C. Millers. Are You?

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It's going to take at least three more days to get straightened around about what day it is. This Friday holiday is wonderful, but confusing to the routine-minded.

As a matter of fact, looking back over the holiday, it seems like two days. Tried to beat the parade to the cemetery after a late start—only to get involved in the stalled traffic that backed all the way up over Foxtown Hill.

Did get there in time for the speeches, though, and the bright mingling of uniforms with the fresh flowers at every grave. The smaller parades, wandering off on their own excursions during the speeches, came back on the double and from every direction as the first volley of shots rang out, and thereafter stuck right close to parental coat tails.

And afterwards we went to the river, bailed half of it out of the boat, and landed on the island for the first time this year. All the cottagers were hard at work, painting, hammering, and cutting the lawns.

It was only our two young boys who thought the cold and high Delaware fit for swimming, and they didn't stay in long enough to count ten. However, it was enough to count as the first of the season—and somehow final examinations, graduation speeches, and the last days of school lose their terrors when confronted by the fact that summer is surely, surely coming.

Dr. S. K. Stevens, State Historian of Pennsylvania, spent the morning of Tuesday, May 28, in the Monroe County Historical Society rooms, in the Stroud Community House, Ninth and Main Sts., in Stroudsburg.

He and his secretary, Dolores J. Melloy, both of Harrisburg, spent the morning studying the inventory of old records and manuscripts in the library and museum rooms. He was particularly interested in old newspaper articles of stories of State-wide interest.

This was the first visit to the local museum, and Mrs. Horace Walters, curator of the Monroe County Historical Society, was on hand to greet and assist in his inspection.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

There was a time, a decade ago, when I knew almost everyone on the street. Today it's a different story. The last few years have made a vast change in our town, with newcomers arriving from far and wide to give us the cosmopolitan touch. One of the waitresses in our Wyckoff Tea Room called this to my attention last Saturday, when she remarked, "Y'know, almost everyone I served today was a stranger, which is a sure sign that summer's almost here." I can appreciate what she meant when I look from the office window. Shoppers are milling by in holiday spirit and attire, and only one out of every dozen is someone I recognize. Well, Stranger, we're glad to have you! So far as Wyckoff's is concerned, it's "open door, open arms" during your stay. Come in today!

It seems that some of our State Belt friends are confused about our store hours. It's been rumored that we're no longer open on Saturday nights. Let's correct THAT right now! Wyckoff's is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and on Saturdays from 9 to 3, same as always. . . . Betty Fisher of our gift department, leaves today with the best wishes of all who worked with her. Betty was feted by a group of her closest pals this past Thursday night at Easton, and was presented with gifts both humorous and lovely. Among the well-wishers were Mable Anderson, Ruth Widmer, Laura Faber, Edna Harmon, and Betty LaBarre. . . . Sorry to report that Selma Kuster, head of personnel, was on the sick list Thursday. It's seldom this happens, thank goodness, because Selma's one of the store's best known and most popular employees. . . . I wonder if you noticed the pictures in Woman's Home Companion, showing the various ways of draping the large terry beach towels for glamour and figure flattery? Our beautiful striped Martex or California hand painted towels would be ideal for this. But, on the other hand, who wants to cover her Jantzen or Catalina swim suit? The suit destined to make such a BIG splash this year on the fashion front! In sizes up to 46, rainbow colors, and dressmaker styles, they're swim-ple wonderful. So are our terry and crinkle-tone sport clothes, and our Sacoony suits and dresses. For perfect attire, no matter what the occasion, Wyckoff's has every answer under the summer sun.

Penn Stroud

PENN POINTS

I am happy to introduce to you through this column a young man who has been appointed Restaurant Manager in charge of food and beverage service at the Penn Stroud. His name is Louis Chotson and I hope that you will get acquainted with him personally the next time you are at the hotel.

Mr. Chotson, a Swiss by birth, decided on a hotel career early in life, which is not unusual considering his nationality. After high school he enrolled as a student in the Hotel and Catering School operated by the Swiss Caterers' Association in Zurich.

On receiving his diploma, Chotson headed for Rome where he started out as an apprentice at Fisher's Park Hotel, spending his time both in the back and the front of the house. He continued his training at the Royal Hotel and the Grand Hotel Vittoria in Sorrento and then went to other fine properties in Rome and Naples.

Following this early experience in Italy, Mr. Chotson headed for Britain where he had important assignments in Ayr (Scotland), Glasgow and London. He came to the United States following the war and has been on the staff of such fine places as the Drake and Grammercy Park Hotels in New York and the Sun and Surf Club at Atlantic Beach.

Since Mr. Chotson is Swiss and well-travelled, it is not unusual to find that he speaks English, French, German and Italian. He'll be glad to discuss special dishes with you in any language.

One of the really big events hereabouts during the month of June is the Laurel Ball to be held on the 25th at Fred Waring's Shawnee Inn. A "Laurel Queen" is to be crowned by Governor John S. Fine (last year's Queen was Ruth Hussey). The Laurel Ball is open to the public and tickets may be purchased at the offices of the Chamber of Commerce or the Pocono Mountain Vacation Bureau. June 25th to 25th is Laurel Time, with the Ball coming as a fitting climax.

Governor Fine was in Stroudsburg on the 26th of May on a trip through the Poconos in connection with the proposed new Memorial Skyline Drive.

Hotels, the 7th largest industry in the U. S. from point of sales volume, now gross approximately $2,150,360,000 a year.

Poultrymen To Organize

Poultry raisers of Monroe County agreed unanimously this week to form a Monroe County Poultry Assn. and expect to organize early in the fall.

Arthur Ifft, county agriculture agent said the meeting at Stroudsburg municipal building resulted in appointment of James Ogden, Elmer Veety and Floyd Wilmoth to prepare for the inaugural session. A committee meeting will occur in Stroudsburg June 19 when details will be outlined.

A census of 17 poultrymen attending the session revealed that 65,000 broilers and 29,000 laying hens were owned by the group and it was decided to contact other poultry raisers in the county to join the organization.

F. H. Leuschner, poultry specialist of Penn State College was the speaker. Introduced by Ifft, the speaker's subject was "Growing the Pullet Crop." He also outlined the work being accomplished by other poultry associations in the state and urged formation of an organization here.

Tobyhanna Bows To Tannersville

Tannersville—Tannersville made its first appearance of the 1952 campaign a winning one in the Pocono Mountains League yesterday, when the charges of Manager Harry Werkheiser took the measure of Tobyhanna-Pocono Lake, 8-2, here on the winning club's home grounds.

Six errors by the Tobyhanna-Pocono Lake contingent figured heavily in the scoring, as both clubs picked up six hits off the respective hurlers. Tannersville booted four plays in the field, but the visiting club scored off Horace Johnson in only the sixth and ninth rounds.

Lead
Tannersville opened the scoring in the first inning, with two runs, and stayed out in front the remainder of the distance. The home club picked up two more in the third and the same number in the sixth, and also added singletons to the total in the fifth and eighth rounds.

Bob "Lefty" Weirich fanned 11 batters, but also walked eight. Johnson retired only one batter on strikes, but allowed only two free tickets to first.

Walcott Works On Holiday

Atlantic City (AP)—Memorial Day was just another working day for Jersey Joe Walcott.

The heavyweight boxing champion worked out indoors in preparation for his June 5 title defense against Ezzard Charles at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium.

Ready
The champ's manager, Felix Boechichio, said Walcott has been trained for speed and has it. The manager said his fighter was on edge. He's ready for the fight now, Boechichio said.

Phillies Split With Giants

Philadelphia, (AP)—Righthander Larry Jansen's 100th major league victory snapped a two game losing streak for the New York Giants yesterday as the National League leaders split a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Jansen's glib edged five-hit job in the nightcap of a Memorial Day twin-bill before 31,273—largest Shibe Park crowd of the season for the Phillies—helped the Giants to a 4 to 2 win after the Phillies had won the opener 3 to 0 behind the two-hit pitching effort of Russ Meyer. A five-hit explosion in the seventh inning, including back to back triples and a double sent left-hander Max Lanier down to defeat.

Walter Reed Swimming Club Holds Monopoly On Champions Slated To Appear At Shawnee

Shawnee — on — Delaware — There's one monopoly the U. S. Senate investigating committee isn't likely to look into and it's right in Washington. That's the market in national swimming championships and records the Walter Reed Swimming Club of the capitol city has cornered.

Five members of the Walter Reed team have been selected to represent the South Atlantic District AAU in the invitation swimming meet at Fred Waring's Shawnee Inn here Sunday, June 15. Among them the five girls have a total of 12 national championships and as many more records.

Mary Freeman with five, Gail Peters with four, Barbara Hobelmann with two, Marlene Cahill with one, and Shelley Mann who reached the finals of three different national championship events in the recent title meet at Daytona Beach, Fla., were named on the South Atlantic District team by coach Jim Campbell.

Competition
The South Atlantic District swimmers will compete against picked teams from the Middle Atlantic District and the New Jersey-New York Metropolitan Districts. The Middle Atlantic District under Joe Kirk, coach at LaSalle College, Philadelphia, has already named a squad of 14 including one Olympic champion, two national champions and the rest district champions. The New Jersey-New York District team is yet to be announced by Maxwell Vogt, Newark Swimming Club coach.

Gail Peters, the "Cinderella"

Girl" of swimming recently won four national titles at the indoor championships at Daytona Beach where she established new records in winning the 100-yard breast stroke, the 200-yard breast stroke, the 300-yard individual medley and was the high point champion of the meet.

Mary Freeman, 17-year-old daughter of an army colonel, stationed in Washington holds the 100-meter and 200-meter backstroke and the individual medley outdoor titles and the 200-meter indoor backstroke crown.

Barbara Hobelmann is the 400-meter and 1500-meter outdoor freestyle champion. Marlene Cahill was a member of the Town Club, of Chicago world's record breaking 400-meter freestyle national championship relay team, and is now swimming for the Walter Reed Club.

Van Every, 73, of New York, was found dead in bed of a heart attack at his hotel near the Charles' training camp.

Resume
Charles will resume training today as he enters the final stages of his preparations for the heavyweight title bout against champion Jersey Joe Walcott in Philadelphia June 5.

Three Cars In Collision; Boy Injured

Brodheads-ville—Rain, slippery highways and poor vision were blamed for three cars ramming one another at the Long Pond intersection of Route 115 and Legislative Route 45049, 14 miles north of this place, Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Troopers of the local State police substation reported a small boy was slightly injured.

The cars involved were a 1947 light sedan operated by Daniel S. Augustine, 22, of White Haven RD 1, and a 1950 sedan owned and operated by Edmund D. Brooks, of Manville, N. J., the officers said.

According to police a car, operator not identified, halted his vehicle at the intersection. Augustine, who unable to bring his car to a stop, rammed the rear of the car ahead and Brooks' machine, next in line, struck the rear of the White Haven vehicle.

Edmund Brooks Jr., aged four, riding in the car with his father was treated at the scene by Dr. James Kitchen, of Pocono Lake, for lacerations of the face.

The first car in the mixup was not damaged and the driver, being absolved from blame by the other two, left the scene, police said.

The grille, radiator, two front fenders and rear deck of the Augustine car were damaged to the extent of $300, police said, while the grille, radiator and two front fenders of the Brooks vehicle suffered $200 loss. There were no arrests.

Letters To The Editor

To The Editor:

I am interested in the education of the children of today and visit the schools of Monroe Co. once in a while. Last week while visiting one school, I heard one member of the faculty discussing another teacher with a number of pupils. This was anything but ethical to my opinion. The pupils were also allowed to make derogatory remarks about members of their school faculty to this teacher and classmates. They also belittled the teachers in the primary, elementary and intermediate grades. I know how much work these teachers have to do and what is expected of them and from all indications children aren't taught much after they leave the sixth grade in this particular school but slang and disrespect for other people. The pupils in the grades were sent out in an orderly manner but, comes the stampede when Junior high and high school were turned out.

I have respect for every educator but my idea of an educator is one who tries to improve the minds of our young people and not permit things such as these to go on in a so called "modern school." Some of these critics have been taught by the same teachers whom they are belittling and permitting the so-called high school pupils to berate. They seem to think they have accomplished something. If the grade teachers have been doing such a poor job (they, the critics wouldn't be where they are), because it's the grade teachers who have the hardest jobs and most of them are doing an excellent piece of work. They have no so-called study periods which are used in this particular school as a visitation periods for teachers while the pupils race through the halls shouting and yelling to the top of their voices.

My mind is very much relieved and I hope every parent and teacher will read what I have said.

Yours truly
